

Senate Vote on Farm Bill Is Stalled

Club Hear About Trip

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Physically barring the Senate door, a Democratic leader has prevented quick action on a House-passed farm bill in tit-for-tat retaliation against earlier Republican refusal to allow a vote on a massive industrial safety bill.

As a result, both measures may well be stalled until Congress returns Nov. 16 from its election recess which begins tonight.

Senators from both sides of the aisle spluttered, fumed, bickered and displayed partisan stripes for all to see in a day that was climaxed when assistant Democratic Leader Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia stood in the Senate door and refused to admit Robert Berry, a House clerk.

Byrd was acting majority leader at the time and was within his rights under Senate rules to stop anyone he pleased from entering.

Berry, son of Rep. E. Y. Berry, R-S.D., was carrying notice the House had approved the joint conference report on the farm bill. This bill includes a three-year extension of agricultural programs, and for the first time sets a $55,000-per-acre ceiling on subsidies growers of wheat, cotton and feed grains can be paid for not growing crops.

Byrd's move sparked a flow of partisan rhetoric from Republicans who accused the Democratic leadership of playing election-year politics with the livelihood of the nation's farmers.

Earlier, in a somewhat broader coalition, some senators spoke of playing fast and loose with the welfare of workers affected by the industrial safety bill.

Republican Leader Hugh Scott, alerted to Byrd's blocking move, dashed from his office down the corridor in a futile protest.

Inside the Senate chamber, "so that the messenger from the House who still lingers without ... without admission, without instructions on what to do next, can come in with the farm bill."

MRS. CARTER RUSSELL AND POD ROGERS

Reports of trips to the East and West coasts of the United States in which out town, Hope, Arkansas, received much favorable publicity were made by Mrs. Carter Russell and C.M. "Pod" Rogers as they appeared before the Hope Kiwanis Club at their Tuesday meeting on a program arranged by Kiwanian Bill Butler.

Mrs. Russell and her party left Hope on Labor Day by chartered bus to attend the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City where they saw our own Miss Arkansas, Miss Donna Connelly, place in the top ten.

On the way to Atlantic City stops were made in Nashville, Tennessee, Natural Bridge and Charlottesville, Virginia, Washington, D.C. and New York City where visits were made to places of interest and to historical spots.

Mr. Rogers reported on the West Coast trip which he and Carter Russell made, taking with them several Hempstead County watermelons, weighing in excess of 100 pounds each. "Pod" in his own individual style and with the backing of some local people has perhaps done more to get Hope, Arkansas before the nation than any other one individual. Mr. Rogers was recognized by Glen Campbell at the telecast of one of his shows and then appeared briefly in an audience shot of the Monty Hall Let's Make A Deal show, on which Hall showed a few of the big melons Pod and Carter had transported to the West coast.

So twice in the month of September Hope, Arkansas and two of its products, beautiful young ladies and large watermelons, were featured on national television. Hope can be justly proud of Donna, Miss Arkansas, and the way she represented Arkansas on the East coast, and we should be quite appreciative of the time and effort expended by Mr. Rogers in publicizing our town on the West coast.

Guests at Tuesday's Kiwanis Club meeting were Crit Stuart, Jr., and Key Clubbers, Harper Powell and Eddie White.

Somervell, assistant engineer, and William H. "Buddy" Sutton, legal representative of the railroad. Mayor Frank Douglas assured Mr. Wohlschlaeger that representative of the City would meet with the railroad and state highway officials as soon as a meeting could be arranged.

Mr. Sutton was also here in answer to a call from City Attorney James Pilkinton, asking him to meet with the city officials concerning the condition of the switch track in the area along the Shanhouse Manufacturing Company property. Mr. Sutton said that he had checked with the construction division and had a firm promise to begin work of rebuilding this track within the next 30 days. The condition of this track has been the subject of a lot of correspondence between the railroad and the City Officials. Shanhouse officials and the Hope Chamber of Commerce has also filed several requests with the railroad to make needed repairs to eliminate a water hole through this area, which has now become almost impassable.

The Board of Directors passed an Ordinance rezoning about 10 acres of property on North Hervey to provide for a proposed shopping center. The area will be the land between Avenues D and G, extending from Hervey to the Frisco Railroad right-of-way.

At a recent public hearing on the proposed rezoning, the developers presented a sketch of the proposed layout and an architect's drawing of the buildings that are proposed. The plan calls for a modern and complete shopping center, providing adequate parking and protection for neighboring residential areas. The developers plan to leave the trees along North Hervey to add to the attractiveness of the location.

A public hearing was set for 7:00 p.m. November 10, a regular meeting date of the Board of Directors, on a petition to close a section of an unused alley along the Frisco railroad's storage yard.

The Board authorized the Police Department to dispose of a motor scooter that was used by the Police Department for parking meter patrol. After several accidents, the police had discontinued use of the equipment which will be advertised for sale.

serve segregation, not to perpetuate neighborhood schools.

Black told Nabrit, who was supporting a massive busing plan: "How can you rearrange the whole country? ... You want to haul people miles and miles to give them equal percentages in the schools."

The neighborhood school concept has become the first line of defense for attorneys defending desegregation plans the civil rights lawyers say do not carry out the 1954 Supreme Court desegregation ruling.

The government's lawyer in the school cases, Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold, has told the court school boards should be free "to take into account the benefits to be derived from preserving the traditional neighborhood method of school assignment."

The captain identified the woman from photographs as Miss Davis but officials later determined that the report was false. The captain's story was given widespread local publicity, however.

"Because of the publicity from the false tip, somebody spotted her and the FBI picked up her trail," Hushen said. The pilot said Miss Davis left Florida hurriedly during the flurry of publicity.

In New York Miss Davis and Poindexter had been registered in Room 702 at the motel for five days, according to a source.

When arrested in their $30-a-day room, they were unarmed and offered no resistance, authorities said.

ach on the floor, puffing a cigar. Smokers have a special talent for arranging their tobacco objects in ashtrays so that the smoke wafts away from them and under the nose or into the eyes of the closest nonsmoker.

I have a special affection for the few airlines which ask if you want a smoking or nonsmoking seat.

Would that bars, party-givers and offices did the same.

And to be absolutely, perfectly honest, a whiff of tobacco at the wrong time can do more to kill a romance than a whole passel of other women.

Frazier Named Obituaries to Water, Light Board

George Frazier was appointed to fill the position on the Water and Light Commission which was recently vacated by the resignation of Roy Anderson.

Roy Anderson has been a member of the Water and Light Commission since it was originally formed in 1956. Prior to that, he had served as purchasing agent for the Water and Light systems for about 25 years. Three members of the original Water and Light Commission still remain on the board. They are Albert Graves, who serves as chairman, Lloyd Spencer and Robert LaGrone.

This commission has directed the development of the Hope electric system into one of the most modern electric distribution systems to be found anywhere, and which has more than doubled the net earnings of the system.

George Frazier served as mayor on the first Board of Directors elected when the city adopted the City Manager form of government and has a long record of service in civic affairs of the community. His appointment to the commission will run to 1979, which is the unexpired part of the 10 year term of Roy Anderson.

Mrs. Rose Holt Rosenbaum

Mrs. Rose Holt Rosenbaum, 57, of Guernsey community, was found dead in her car Tuesday near her home. Coroner J.T. Honeycutt ruled death was caused by a heart attack. Mrs. Rosenbaum was alone and returning home from Texarkana. The body was found in the car just off Interstate 30 near Guernsey.

She is survived by her husband, Hubert Rosenbaum; three sons, John Holt of Hope, George Holt of Guernsey, James Holt of U.S. Army in Vietnam; four daughters, Mrs. Bill Spinger of Nashville, Mrs. Burle Boyd of Texarkana, Mrs. Thomas Williams of Hope, Mrs. Alfred Effler of Columbus; three stepsons, Richard and David Rosenbaum of Hope, Ronald Rosenbaum of Dallas; three stepdaughters, Mrs. Donald Johnson of Irving, Texas, Mrs. Clayton Hawthorne of Texarkana and Miss Glenda Rosenbaum of the home; four brothers, Arthur Martin of Indiana, Wortham Martin of Texarkana, Frank and Bill Martin of Hope; three sisters, Mrs. Fred Smith of Blevins, Mrs. N.B. Coleman of Hope and Mrs. Dale Ravencraft of Murfreesboro, and three stepbrothers.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at Herndon Chapel by M.H. Peebles. Burial will be in Washington Cemetery.

The effect of the amendment, if approved by the House and ratified by three-fourths of the state legislatures, would be to clarify a 1961 Supreme Court ruling which banned required prayers from public schools.

But the amendment's fate is highly uncertain because it was added onto another proposed constitutional amendment to guarantee women equal rights with men under state and federal laws.

The equal rights amendment was approved by the House in August by a 350-15 vote, but it has run into rough going in the Senate. Its chances of being sent to the states this year for ratification have appeared to be slipping daily.

The Senate further weakened prospects of approval by adopting three changes proposed by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C.

The major change was to exempt women from being drafted for the armed services. The other revisions would require ratification by the states to be completed in seven years, and would make the effective date two years after ratification instead of one.

RESOLUTION

INITIATED ACT NO. 1 — REPEAL OF FULL CREW LAWS

WHEREAS, the Fort Smith Freight Bureau, organized and existing without profit to protect and promote the freight transportation interests of over 100 shipper members located throughout the State of Arkansas, and,

WHEREAS, impartial boards under Presidents Kennedy and Nixon have determined that trains can be safely operated with a crew of four employees, and,

WHEREAS, by laws enacted more than 60 years ago that are still on the books, Arkansas is now the only State in the Union that requires a freight train crew of six employees, and by reason thereof trains entering this State must stop at the borders and pick up additional employees, and,

WHEREAS, it is unfair and repugnant to our way of life in Arkansas to require any business or undertaking to employ more people than necessary to do a job, or to pay for work not performed, and,

WHEREAS, the present antiquated crew laws place an unjust and heavy economic burden upon the railroads that operate through and within the boundaries of this State, and also upon the shippers and citizens of Arkansas that must ultimately pay for such wasteful transportation practices, and,

WHEREAS, the presidents of the railroads serving Arkansas have publicly pledged that no employee will lose his employment by reason of repeal of the obsolete train crew laws, but that unneeded jobs will be phased out by attrition.

NOW, THEREFORE, be it resolved, that the Fort Smith Freight Bureau go on record as supporting Initiated Act No. 1, an Act To Repeal The Full Crew Laws.

Adopted by the Executive Committee of the Fort Smith Freight Bureau this 6th day of October, 1970.

MUMBO JUMBO
JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Taking time off from a campaign against miniskirted churchgoers, a local Anglican rector dismissed the theory of evolution as "mere mumbo jumbo."

Writing in his parish magazine, the Rev. Arthur Sexby of St. Michael and St. George's Church criticized "doctors, bishops, clergymen, lecturers and schoolteachers" who are "more concerned to be with-it than to witness the scientific facts. They are but a lot of intellectual chisellers."

Recently, Sexby caused an uproar in his congregation when he banned miniskirts from the church.

Missionary to Speak at 1st Assembly

The Rev. and Mrs. Robert Cobb, an Assemblies Of God missionary to Ghana, will be guest speakers at the First Assembly Of God, 322 No. Main, Sunday, October 18 at the 11 a.m. worship service.

Mr. Cobb and his wife, Naomi were active in evangelism, church establishment, food store and bookmobile operation, and business management during their fifth term of missionary service. He was also treasurer of the Ghana Assemblies Of God.

Mr. Cobb is a nephew of Homer Cobb of R.2 Hope, Ark. The First Assembly Of God church has helped support this missionary couple for about the last 20 years.

They will be returning to the mission field to assume responsibilities in Tanzania, East Africa to head up the literature ministry and to do evangelistic work.

Rev. and Mrs. Cobb are graduates of Central Bible College Of Springfield, Missouri and prior to their ministry to missions were engaged in the evangelistic work in Oklahoma, Missouri, Texas and Arkansas.

The Pastor, C.C. Truitt, invites the public to hear these missionaries and to see the Curios, and Costumes that will be features in this mission service.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — There was some unusually satisfactory television viewing Tuesday night for those willing to do a little channel jumping.

First there was CBS's first National Geographic special of the season. Then, on ABC, came Edward G. Robinson in "The Old Man Who Cried Wolf," the best so far in the "Movie of the Week" series this season. Finally there was CBS's interesting, if hardly probing, portrait of Henry Kissinger, presidential assistant for national security.

"Zoo of the World" was the ambitious title of the CBS special, and while the hour did miss some of the 800 or so in existence, it did manage to hit some of the most interesting.

We saw a children's zoo in Central Park, an English lord's manor transformed into a commercial game preserve, a Japanese "insectarium" with 15,000 live specimens, and a Bronx zoo exhibit showing night-loving creatures. There were glimpses of rare animals in captivity—a white gorilla in Spain, white tigers in India. There were also scenes of ordinary, popular zoos in Europe and the United States.

It was unlike any previous program in the series, but certainly ranks among the most interesting.

Edward G. Robinson was impressive and convincing in the suspense tale, playing a 70-year-old man who sees an old friend murdered but is unable to convince anyone, including his own family, that it was not the figment of a senile mind.

The old man's determination to show his friend was murdered and did not die of a heart attack led him from one horrendous situation to another.

The murderer reappeared and threatened him; the police made fun of his story; school children threw a can at him; his son called a psychiatrist who put him in a hospital for observation.

It was most unusual at the end. Instead of the usual roundup of villains and strolling off to a happy ending, Robinson played a realistic windup which made it something of a shocker. "60 Minutes" devoted the longest segment of its time to Dr. Kissinger, presidential counselor and confidante.

We saw Kissinger in his White House office and at his San Clemente office; Kissinger conferring with his boss; Kissinger on a California beach and on a Disneyland ride with his two children. A former Harvard colleague discussed his disappointment with Kissinger's position on the Cambodia incursion and Kissinger replied with gentle tact. A Washington woman discussed Kissinger's reputation as a swinger—"He just doesn't have the time."

The hour also included a sample of "James Whitmore's "Evening with Will Rogers" solo show, filmed during a Washington performance, and a filmed visit to Medgar Evers' Mississippi home town seven years after the Negro leader's murder.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED for it, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

MIDI OR NOT MIDI?

Dear Helen:

Did we win the war, or did we just cause a delaying action? I mean the battle of the skirts.

I see that several columnists and commentators have conceded that women will never accept the midi length skirts, and then I hear fashion designers on the talk shows saying, "Oh yes, it's only a matter of time—the mini is dommed."

What's the long and the short of it, Helen? Or does anyone know? —MERCY FOR THE MINI

Dear Mercy:

The long and the short of it—is just that. Anything goes this year, from mini to maxi—with pants suits the most popular of all. For almost the first time in history, women are choosing what suits them best, praises be!

Going out on a limb, I'll predict—again—that the midi will never conquer shorter skirts. It is still an extremely unpopular style, seen in ads and store windows but seldom on the streets—at least in our liberated west.

When thousands of people write to one columnist (me) expressing their disgust at a fashion decree, I can't believe that style will ever really connect.

Right, readers? —H.

Dear Helen:

Should I let my husband keep an agreement he has made with his ex-girlfriend that he will support her son until the son is 21? He has had other affairs, but this is the first pregnancy—or at least the first one he admits.

We have been married eight years and have four children. We can barely squeeze by financially. Almost a hundred a month to this woman (who already has another boyfriend) is the last straw.

If my husband does this, maybe he'll expect to support other babies he produces outside of marriage. He also has a drinking problem, which he blames the affairs on, saying he "wasn't responsible" at the time.

I guess I really stopped loving him after the third time he swore he'd never be untrue again—and didn't keep his promise, although

Macaroons From England
To grind the almonds for these chewy cookies use an electric blender or a special nut grater.

Macaroons
1 1/4 cups ground blanched almonds
3/4 cup sugar
2 egg whites
2 tablespoons corn starch
2 teaspoons water
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
18 to 20 blanched almond halves

Mix ground almonds and sugar. Add unbeaten egg whites, reserving about 1 tablespoon. Stir until well blended, about 1 minute. Add corn starch, water and vanilla, stirring well after each addition. Drop batter onto foil covered baking sheet by teaspoonsful 3 inches apart. Brush cookies with remaining egg white, then place almond half on top of each. Bake in 375°F. (moderate) oven 15 minutes or until evenly browned. Cool on wire rack 3 to 4 minutes. Peel off foil; cool cookies on wire rack. Makes 1 1/2 dozen.

Arkadelphia Faces Hope Challenge

The McGehee Owls are half-way thru their league schedule and are the only undefeated team in 4AA East but the Arkadelphia Badgers face another challenge this week when they meet the Hope Bobcats. Arkadelphia and Hope are the only two teams in 4AA West with clean conference slates.

McGehee travels to Dumas this week. Other games for league teams are: Fairview host to El Dorado on Thursday night, and Friday night games send Fordyce to Dermott, Hamburg to Eudora, Lake Village to Monticello, Warren to Star City, Crossett to Camden, and Magnolia to Malvern.

Hope was the only team to upset the Arkadelphia grid machine last year. This may be the last real hurdle for the Badgers.

In games last week Hamburg pulled a 26 to 8 upset win over Star City; McGehee downed Monticello 26 to 6, Arkadelphia disposed of Magnolia 49 to 22, Camden defeated Dollarway 26 to 13, Lake Village beat Dermott 13 to 0, Dumas edged Fordyce 13 to 7, Warren won 27 to 0 over Eudora, Hope beat Crossett 21 to 13, and Fairview and Malvern battled to a 13-13 tie, the first tie in the West conference this season.

Highlights included McGehee's Ricky Sammons scored three touchdowns and gained 239 yards on 31 carries in the Owls win over Monticello. The Billes were only the second team all year to score on the Owls. Bill Vining threw three TD passes and the Badgers had 390 yards total offense in their victory. David Dingler ran for 146 yards on fifteen carries and Lake Village had 346 yards rushing in their victory. Roy McEmore had a 70-yard TD run against Fairview and both McEmore and the Cardinals Larry Finn each had over 100-yard plus performances. Warren's defense held Eudora to 69 yards total offense.

Freddie Douglas of McGehee continues for the sixth week the individual scoring leadership with 10 TD and 60 points. Bubba Lovett of Crossett is second with 56 points. Gary Crist leads the extra point kickers but Bill Hurley of Arkadelphia moved to within two. Crist has 18 PAT. McGehee and Arkadelphia continue to lead most of the statistical departments in their two divisions.

Reds Seeing Brooks in Their Sleep

By GORDON BEARD
 Associated Press Sports Writer

BAITMORE (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds are being hoodwinked just like everyone else. The National League champions are so mesmerized by the fielding of Brooks Robinson that they fail to realize that Baltimore third baseman is also helping to club them senseless with his bat.

The 33-year-old Robinson, called "the human vacuum cleaner" in Baltimore and nasty names elsewhere, has made a sensational play in each of Baltimore's three straight World Series victories over the Reds.

After the second game in Cincinnati Sunday, Reds' Manager Sparky Anderson contended that Robinson was the difference in two consecutive one-run decisions and that Cincinnati would have won both had it not been for Brooks.

"I'm beginning to see him in my sleep," Anderson said, while eating in the clubhouse off a paper plate. "If I dropped this paper plate, he'd pick it up on one hop and throw me out."

On Tuesday, Brooks came up with an other spectacular play. The victim this time was Cincinnati catcher Johnny Bench, with Robinson diving to his left to spear a low liner for the final out of the sixth inning.

Bench said when Robinson came to bat in the bottom of the inning, he told Brooks he was going to "hit the ball over his head."

"That's the only way I can get the ball to left," Bench said. "Pie Traynor may have been better. He was before my time. But even Traynor couldn't make those kind of plays."

Robinson, a 10-time Golden Glove winner as the best fielding third baseman in the American League, said during a post-game interview that when he talks salary, "They never say anything about my fielding. They just want to know how I hit."

The Reds have yet to comment on Robinson's offensive contributions:

—A seventh-inning homer which broke a tie and won the opener 4-3.

—An RBI single which tied the score in the fifth inning of game No. 2. Brooks scored the final run of the five-run rally, the one which meant victory in a 6-5 decision.

—Two doubles, the first driving in Baltimore's two first inning runs in Tuesday's 9-3 rout. "We could win four straight and take the Series," said Anderson, "but Brooks has to win the most valuable player award. He's got it won already."

Dave McNally, who hurled a complete game and slugged a grand slam homer, and Frank Robinson with two singles and a homer, shared the hero honors with Brooks.

"I liked my hitting better than my pitching," said McNally, who allowed nine hits while becoming the first pitcher ever to hit a World Series grand slam and the 12th player on the all-time list.

The Orioles have now won 17 games in a row including the last 11 of the regular season and three straight over Minnesota in the AL playoffs.

Weaver named Jim Palmer, the first game winner, to try for a Series sweep today.

Asked about the rest of the line-up, Weaver in turn inquired who was pitching for Cincinnati. Told it was Gary Nolan who also started the first game, Weaver deadpanned:

"If it's Nolan, then probably —and I say probably—Brooks Robinson will play third base."

setups.

"We have to read defenses much quicker than we have had to any time this year," Ellender said. "Our defensive linemen will have to have a good game if we expect to move the football."

Favorites in College Grid Play

 NEW YORK (AP) — Having had a peek at Stanford's Jim Plunkett and Mississippi's Archie Manning earlier in the season, television viewers get a look at another Heisman Trophy quarterback candidate this Saturday in Notre Dame's Joe Theismann. The Fighting Irish face Missouri before more than 55,000 spectators and a national TV audience (ABC-TV, 3:30 p.m., EDT) in what may go down as the Injury Bowl.

Both third-ranked Notre Dame and the 18th-rated Tigers suffered crippling injuries last Saturday. The Irish lost guard Larry DiNardo for several weeks with a knee injury while Joe Moore, Missouri's ace runner, suffered a shoulder separation in the first quarter against Nebraska. Both were strong pre-season All-America prospects.

However, Notre Dame can console itself with the brilliant passing combination of Theismann and Tom Galewood and a horde of fine runners while the Tigers, without much passing, can hardly take the loss of Moore.

In the first-ever meeting of these two Midwestern football powers the pick is... Notre Dame.

Michigan State at Michigan—This is college football's No. 1 gate attraction with a 23rd consecutive sellout crowd—103,000—guaranteed back in July. Although Michigan upset Ohio State last season, the Wolverines lost to Michigan State. Not this time... Michigan.

Minnesota at Ohio State—This could be the toughest game on the Buckeyes' schedule before the Michigan finale. But Woody Hayes isn't about to let his troops look that far ahead. Ohio State.

Nebraska at Kansas—Both teams are coming off big wins. Kansas, despite a 1-9 campaign, almost upset the Cornhuskers a year ago and could pull it off this time, but... Nebraska.

Georgia Tech at Auburn—Explosive Tigers have yet to be held under 33 points while Tech's ace runner, Brent Cunningham, suffered a shoulder injury last Saturday. Auburn.

Oklahoma at Colorado—Buffaloes get even for last season's loss. Colorado.

Alabama at Tennessee—Tennessee's Bill Battle played for Bear Bryant and has the horses to give his old teacher a lesson. Tennessee.

Kentucky at Louisiana State—The Wildcats have a way of making the big ones close, but few teams win on Saturday

Cincinnati Not Tossing in Towel

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
 BALTIMORE (AP) — Sparky Anderson wasn't throwing in the towel today, but he had to be wondering from which direction the next Baltimore punch would come—and whether it would be a World Series knockout blow to his reeling Cincinnati Reds.

"It ain't over yet, but it's getting awful close," the Cincinnati manager murmured Tuesday after the Orioles, striking with brute force from expected and unexpected sources, floored the Reds 9-3 to soar within one victory of their second series sweep in five years.

The Reds, glassy-eyed and rubber-legged after walking into a grand-slam uppercut by pitcher Dave McNally as well as bases-empty clouts by Frank Robinson and Don Buford, pinned their flickering hopes on the strong right arm of Gary Nolan today in game No. 4.

Jim Palmer, who beat Nolan 4-3 in the series opener last Saturday, was Baltimore pilot Earl Weaver's choice to try for the takeout—and the 11th four-game sweep in the 67-year history of baseball's premier main event.

"I like to walk out a winner, but if I'm a loser, even in four games, I won't go out with my head down," Anderson said after Tuesday's lopsided setback to a Baltimore team which has won its last 17 games—11 at the end of the regular season, three in the American League playoffs against Minnesota and three more in the series.

"I remember a man named Walter Alston who got beat four straight and he's still walking around with his head high."

The Orioles shocked Alston's favored Los Angeles Dodgers with a four-game series blitz in 1966, outpitching Sandy Koufax, Don Drysdale and Claude Osteen in the process.

This time, they have out-pitched, outhit and—due primarily to the sensational play of third baseman Brooks Robinson—outfielded one of the strongest National League series contenders in recent years.

As far as Weaver is concerned, the Orioles could be doing even better—at least in one department.

"I really don't honestly feel that any of our three starting pitchers have had their best stuff," he said after McNally scattered nine hits while adding a second post-season victory to 24 in regular AL play. "When they do, they pitch shutouts."

Neither Weaver, nor any of the 51,773 bird-watchers at Memorial Stadium Tuesday could find fault with McNally's hitting and the stickwork of the Robinsons, Buford and Paul Blair.

McNally became the first pitcher in series history to hit a grand-slam homer when he unloaded into the left field bleachers off Reds relief ace Wayne Granger in the sixth inning to give Baltimore an 8-1 lead. It was the 12th grand-slam in series play.

Frank Robinson, hitless in the Orioles' two one-run victories at Cincinnati last weekend, broke loose with two singles and a third-inning home run off losing pitcher Tony Cloninger that cleared the center field fence.

Brooks Robinson, a hitting and fielding standout from the outset of the best-of-7 classic, cracked two doubles, the first one for two runs in the first inning. Buford homered over the right field fence in the fifth and Blair stroked two singles and a double, for a total of six hits in 12 series at-bats.

Boog Powell, who had clubbed two homers and delivered four runs in the first two games, went 0-for-3 and was hardly missed.

The Reds' heads also were shaking over spectacular plays by Brooks Robinson and second baseman Davey Johnson that helped back them into a dark corner from which no other club in series history has been able to escape.

Brooks took a hit away from luckless Johnny Bench in the sixth when he sprawled headlong to snare the Cincinnati slugger's vicious line drive in the webbing of his glove. Johnson made a leaping, backhand stab of a third inning liner, ticketed for extra bases, off Rose's bat.

"Dave Bristol (the Milwaukee manager and former Reds' skipper) told me before the series that we'd have to beat Baltimore because they wouldn't beat themselves," Rose said. "He said they glove you to death. And they do."

Last year, Mayo Smith, then manager of the Detroit Tigers, put it another way. "Trying to hit a ball through the Baltimore infield," he said, "was like trying to throw a hamburger through a brick wall."

In the Orioles' clubhouse, where Brooks Robinson shared the spotlight with McNally following the left-hander's second home run in two series and the second grand slam of his career, someone asked the 33-year-old third base marvel what he intended to do for an encore.

"Win tomorrow," Brooks replied. "That'd be a pretty good encore."

Old Story in Pro Cage Openers

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was an old story for the new-look National Basketball Association as the expansion-minded league inaugurated its 25th season.

The New York Knickerbockers successfully launched defense of their NBA championship Tuesday night with a 114-108 victory over the Boston Celtics.

In the only other game, the Chicago Bulls proved a rude host in whipping the San Diego Rockets 111-96.

The American Basketball Association opens its season tonight with one game, Denver at Utah.

The Knicks, who defeated the Los Angeles Lakers in seven games in 1969-70 for their first NBA crown, picked up where they left off. They outscored the Celtics 42-27, built a commanding 71-54 halftime bulge and then staved off a belated Boston surge before 18,938 fans.

The Celtics closed within 107-105 with two minutes to go before a pair of baskets by New York's Walt Frazier sealed the verdict.

Willis Reed collected 35 points in triggering the Knicks while John Havlicek kept Boston in contention with 31.

The victory, however, might turn out to be costly for New York. Bill Bradley and Dick Barnett were injured and will be examined further today.

Bob Love and Chet Walker provided the scoring punch with 28 points apiece in Chicago's conquest of San Diego. The Bulls opened a 27-point advantage in the third quarter after leading at halftime 56-45.

High-scoring Elvin Hayes of the Rockets was limited to six points in the first half and wound up with 14 after sitting out the third period. Stu Lantz topped San Diego with 24 points.

Junior High Observes Lunch Week

Utah State Player Back of the Week

LOGAN, Utah (AP) — Tony Adams says he was just another unknown football player until his Utah State Aggies upset Kentucky, 35-7 last week.

He had already undergone bad experiences at Texas and Riverside, Calif., City College and as a sophomore at Utah State this fall, he had to beat out two other candidates for the quarterback job.

"I was one of those guys who looked up to the players you read about every day like Archie Manning and Jim Plunkett," he said Tuesday after learning he had been named the collegiate back of the week by The Associated Press.

Adams, picking the Kentucky zone defense apart, completed 25 of 38 passes for 323 yards and three touchdowns, and ran for a score himself. In 97 passes this fall, he has been intercepted only once.

"They didn't pass as much as I liked at Texas," he said. "I lost my enthusiasm when Coach Darrell Royal said he was going to redshirt me my sophomore year."

"I went to Riverside and sat on the bench all year because of a shoulder separation."

"Utah State people contacted me there, and I have three years of eligibility left, counting this one."

"I'm completely happy here and certainly satisfied with the AP honor."

"It was easy to break Kentucky's zone," Adams said, although he conceded that the Wildcats may have underrated the Aggie offense.

Against Kentucky, said Utah State coach Chuck Mills, "Tony called the plays better than any sophomore I can think of."

"The coaches only sent in two plays from the bench. Adams even made a couple of in-game adjustments that weren't in our game plan. He changed a couple of receiver routes to take advantage of their linebacker play."

Toughest Job Charging Up Front Four

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Floyd Peters says the toughest job he has as defensive player-coach of the Washington Redskins is to keep the front four charged up for the next game after they have an outstanding performance.

He didn't have that problem previously but he does this week.

Peters, the 12-year veteran defensive tackle who came to Washington from Philadelphia this season, wants to keep the spark kindling in the front four that stopped Detroit last Sunday and gave the Redskins a 31-10 upset victory.

"We got better execution against the Lions than we've had all season," said Peters.

"It's a young defensive line and getting better with each game. It was the best performance we've had since we came here."

The Lions led the league in rushing, averaging 199 yards a game, before they met Washington last Sunday. The Redskins stopped them for 99 yards.

For their performance, the Redskins defense, especially the front four—tackles Peters and Bill Brundige, and ends Bruce Anderson and Leo Carroll and John Hoffman, who each played a half, were named the Associated Press Defensive Players of the Week.

"It's a little difficult," said Peters of the defensive unit which has already created two AP offensive players this year. "We played the kind of game we're capable of. We just executed better."

Dear Customers and Other Friends:

For years, our boss has been after us over and over again to smile at you, be courteous, keep your accounts efficiently and keep you happy.

We love doing this because our group is a friendly one by nature. In fact, we've been knocking ourselves out to keep this image of friendliness and efficiency, but the boss says, "Do more! Do a better job!"

We've searched high and low for something else to improve our image, and we think we've found it. It's called the "Uniform Look".

In a few weeks, we girls at Citizens National will be dressed in good-looking red, white and blue career clothes that are going to knock your eyes out! No longer will you wonder who is an employee and who isn't. You'll be able to spot us when you walk in the bank's front door or wherever you see us.

All this has been made possible by our many wonderful customers and friends (and our boss), and we love you for it. We'll let you know when our career clothes come in so we can give you our own fashion show.

Sincerely,

THE GIRLS FROM....

LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

Food in Your Diet Can Be Ruining Your Health

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

What are you doing about your diet? Unless you make a real effort to eat right, the food you eat may ruin your health. One of the chief differences in our culture, afflicted as it is with early deaths from heart disease and mental senility, from those cultures free of these civilized diseases is what we eat.

Despite the importance of food to our health, vast numbers of intelligent people have only vague ideas about a proper diet. Others go on fad diets and there is more malnutrition in the United States because of ignorance than because of poverty.

The first basic necessity for a proper diet is that it must contain all the essential food elements, vitamins, proteins and minerals. Many fad diets fail in this regard. The amount of food calories you eat must be balanced against the calories you use in your daily activity to prevent developing dangerous fat deposits. You don't need to count calories. If you have or develop excess fat under the skin—usually around the waist—you are eating too much or exercising too little for you. No diet will be successful in preventing heart and vascular disease unless you prevent obesity.

If you eat foods with lower calorie content you can have a satisfying diet that shouldn't fatten you. Much of the diet problem begins in the kitchen. You don't need will power; you need proper food.

The amount of calories in food is influenced by its water content. Lean raw beef, for example, is over 70 per cent water, while raw beef fat contains less than 20 per cent water. This factor alone means that the fat contains many more calories than the lean. One gram (a teaspoonful of water is about four grams) of pure fat—without water—contains nine calories and one gram of pure protein in the meat contains only four calories. The net result is that, ounce for ounce, fat tissue contains five times as many calories as lean muscle tissue. Obviously, if you need to limit the calories in your food, you can't include too much fat in your diet.

Pure carbohydrate, like sugar, contains four calories per gram. A level teaspoonful of sugar (slightly more than four grams) contains nearly 20 calories. Unlike fat tissue and muscle tissue it has almost no water. For this reason a pound of sugar contains nearly three times as many calories as a pound of lean muscle tissues. Sugar or other concentrated carbohydrates and fat are major sources of calories. Lean meat, many vegetables and fruit are food sources with limited calories per pound and are rich sources of essential vitamins, minerals and proteins.

Dear Doctor—How much water should a person drink a day?

Dear Reader—There is no magic figure. Your sense of thirst is your best guide. You will get some water in the food you eat, plus the beverages you drink, such as milk, coffee, soft drinks and fruit juice. Roughly, a normal adult loses a quart of water a day from invisible perspiration of the skin and another quart in the urine. If your water intake in food and beverages doesn't equal this, you will be thirsty and need to drink more fluid. You do not need a specific additional amount of water to wash out poisons through the kidneys, as some people think.

Please send your questions and comments to Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Lamb cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Bumpers Would Seek Taxes If Needed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dale Bumpers, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, said Tuesday that if he were elected and available revenues fell short of what was needed to pay for his proposed programs he would ask the legislature to consider tax measures that would bring in enough to finance the program.

Bumpers, 45, in his first news conference since before the Democratic primary, declined to single out what specific tax he would turn to first for additional revenue, if tax action were needed. He closed the door on none, including the income tax and sales tax.

He said, though, that consideration would have to be given to the severance tax, levies on insurance companies which do business in Arkansas but are based outside the state, and the closing of sales and use tax exemptions enjoyed by bus companies, trucking companies, airlines, railroads and utilities.

He said he believed he could obtain tax legislation from the General Assembly even though the lawmakers sharply reduced the tax requests submitted in 1969 and altogether defeated the ones submitted this year by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, the Republican candidate for governor.

What do you do when you are playing JACOBY MODERN and want to force to game in partner's major-suit opening? We have an expert bid to cover these hands. It is called the Jacoby Two No-trump. We will get around to telling you about this bid some day so that you can place it in your bidding kit if you wish. In the meanwhile, we will tell you about the method recommended by the Dallas Aces, who have just won the world's championship.

In this method, if you have a balanced hand with four trumps for your partner, you respond four diamonds with 13-14 points in support or four clubs with 15-16.

North has 14 points in support of hearts and he might well have used that four-diamond call but he prefers to respond with two diamonds to show his diamond suit.

South rebids two hearts. His hand is just a trifle better than minimum and, as such, does not warrant a three-club bid.

This leaves North with no problem at all. He wants to be in game but has no interest in a slam, so he just bids four hearts.

The artificial four-diamond response to show 13-14 balanced points in support of hearts would also have led to a four-heart contract. So would the standard American forcing three-heart bid. In fact, this is a case where all roads lead to Rome. This hand would be bid to four hearts by anyone, playing any system.

It is also a very easy contract to play. South wins the club lead in dummy and plays a trump. East has to play his queen and all problems are solved. South loses two aces and makes the other 11.

What do you do now?
A—Pass. Your partner has drawn a diagram for both you and the other side. He is obviously afraid of two quick diamond losers and you can't do anything about them.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding five spades, your partner has bid five diamonds over your four hearts. What do you do now?

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Will Rogers was famous for his homespun humor and became one of America's most beloved humorists. The World Almanac recalls that he became known as the "cowboy philosopher" because of his political and social wit. Rogers poked fun at everything and everybody, but had an uncanny knack of making the objects of his humor enjoy his salty comments.

Harvard U. Library Is Bombed

By DAN HANEY
Associated Press Writer
CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A bomb blast early today heavily damaged the library of Harvard University's Center for International Affairs, a government subsidized research institute that was assailing distributed the night before.

No one was injured in the explosion, which was preceded by a telephoned threat it would go off. It blew out windows, shredded concrete and bent steel ceiling rods on the third floor of the building, which was broken into and defaced by members of an antiwar group last fall.

Police said leaflets denouncing the center as a tool of U.S. government foreign "exploitations" were distributed to undergraduate students in dormitories at Harvard and Radcliffe Tuesday night. The leaflets first appeared Monday night, police said, when they were passed out in Harvard Square by youths authorities identified as members of the Students for a Democratic Society.

The explosion was the latest in a rash of terror bombings across the country, some of which the radical Weatherman, a militant offshoot of SDS, has claimed credit.

Harvard or Cambridge police made no statement linking the bombing to radical groups or other bombings in the nation.

Damage to the Harvard center was described by Archibald Cox as "a terrible mess." Cox is a former U.S. solicitor general and now a Harvard dean.

He spoke for the university president at a news conference on the campus shortly after the explosion. Newsmen were barred from the building. State Police Lt. Joseph Sainato, a bomb expert, estimated damage at $40,000.

The leaflets distributed read: "This is the scenario for all of Southeast Asia. Set up and underwrite right-wing pro-U.S. governments, slaughter the Communists and their sympathizers... Westernize the economy for U.S. investment. Thus the C.F.I.A. is as integral as the U.S. Army for controlling and exploiting Southeast Asia."

The center, founded in 1958, is concerned with international affairs, including economic development, arms control and European studies. It houses students studying underdeveloped nations.

Robert Bowie, director of the center, described it as an academic building and said less than 20 per cent of its operating cost came from the federal government.

The university said the center's operating budget last year was nearly $900,000. The center's last annual report said 15 per cent of the funds came from the government and most of the rest from private foundations such as the Ford and Rockefeller.

"The center does a variety of research on defense policy," but none of the research is classified, Cox said.

Temperatures Expected to Be Cooler

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cooler temperatures are expected in Arkansas through Thursday as cool, dry air moves into the state from the northwest.

No precipitation is expected in the state through Thursday. A low pressure system which held clouds and rain over Arkansas for the past three days was moving northeastward this morning and skies were clearing in the southwest.

Afternoon temperatures were generally in the 60s Tuesday, held down by the clouds and rains.

Highs Thursday should be in the mid 60s to mid 70s. Low tonight in the low 40s to low 50s.

Overnight low temperatures include 50 at Fayetteville, 50 at Harrison, 59 at Jonesboro, 58 at Pine Bluff, 54 at El Dorado, 63 at Memphis, 61 at Little Rock and 50 at Fort Smith.

AN ANSWER, perhaps, to water pollution is this self-propelled aquatic vegetation harvester designed to rid lakes of weeds and algae. Bargelike unit cuts weeds to a depth of five feet and harvests them while moving through the water at up to seven miles an hour. Rate of harvest can reach 2 1/2 tons an hour.

Calculated Risk in War Cease-fire

By THOMAS BRADY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Top White House officials see a calculated risk to the Saigon government's hold on the Vietnamese countryside if the Communist side accepts President Nixon's Indochina cease-fire plan.

But they say the chance of securing meaningful peace talks in Paris makes the risk worth taking.

A standstill cease-fire is part of a five-point Nixon peace package on which the officials briefed news media representatives in Hartford, Conn., Monday. Publishers, broadcasters, reporters and editors from states ranging from Maine to Virginia attended.

A transcript of the briefing—which dwelled heavily on the Middle East as well as the Indochinese peace bid—was released Tuesday. The officials insisted they not be identified by name.

They said every U.S. study indicates the South Vietnamese government's grip on its people—particularly those living on the Laotian border—would weaken somewhat if the Communists went along with the Nixon-proposed cease-fire.

But the presidential decision to intervene in Cambodia last spring and improved combat-readiness of South Vietnamese troops make possible now a cease-fire offer that would have been catastrophic six months ago, the officials stated.

They said the Nixon administration is willing to chance a cease-fire as a major step toward ending the war and cited the risk as evidence that the United States was not asking the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong to place themselves at a disadvantage in accepting a battle halt.

NEW YORK (AP) — For the younger half of my life I planned to be a ballet dancer. I divided the world into people who danced and people who didn't.

Dancing was the neat, disciplined, healthy world of orange juice and steak. Journalism was the most opposite extreme—given to coffee, cigarettes and tension.

As fate would have it, journalism is where I wound up, and my colleagues' smoking habits continue to amaze and appall me.

Take the first editor I met. He interviewed me with cigarette in hand.

I was so busy watching the ashes dribbling down his sleeve and chair onto the carpeting that I missed the part where he explained how "cub reporters" were supposed to learn their craft on the job and that I

Senate Favors School Prayer, Against More Liberal Pornography

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rushing toward a 32-day recess, the Senate has gone on record against more liberal pornography legislation and the drafting of women and in favor of voluntary public school prayers.

With many campaigning senators absent, today's agenda—last until Nov. 16—was uncertain. The Senate was forced to adjourn early Tuesday night because of the lack of a quorum after some fighting along party lines.

Republicans stalled off a Democratic attempt to bring up an industrial job safety bill, while Democratic leaders blocked action on a compromise farm bill by refusing to let it be delivered from the House.

Word from the Democratic leadership was that, before starting the recess, it hoped to pass a bill authorizing and appropriating $1.6 billion for military construction.

The Senate's most decisive action Tuesday was a 60-5 vote rejecting major findings and recommendations of the recent report of the Commission on Obscenity and Pornography.

The chief recommendation of the commission's majority was that "federal, state and local legislation prohibiting the sale, exhibition, or distribution of sexual materials to consenting adults should be repealed."

The Senate also approved a Youth Killed at Horatio

Today, I know a very charming white-haired editor and former foreign correspondent, who dresses immaculately—and deposits the butts from 2 1/2 packs on the floor at his typewriter every day.

I once worked a shift starting at 7 a.m. and the man who got off at that time smoked a pipe—which apparently was cleaned out onto the floor periodically during the early morning hours.

By the time I sat down on the desk, the floor crunched like the bottom of a monkey cage. I requisitioned a broom and swept out every morning.

UN Opens, Hopeful for Law, Order

By TOM HOGE
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — With a fervent hope for law and order, U.N. officials opened their doors today to a parade of international leaders arriving for the 25th birthday of the world forum.

Police cars and patrol boats on the East River guarded the land and water approaches of the world organization's headquarters. Inside the buildings and throughout the 18 acres of lawns and gardens, U.N. guards and plainclothesmen kept watch following a warning from J. Edgar Hoover's assistant that anarchistic groups might try to kidnap heads of state attending the anniversary session.

William C. Sullivan, the assistant to the FBI director, gave the warning in a speech prepared for delivery to a group of publishers and editors. But when he gave the speech, he omitted the reference to kidnappings. No reason was given.

The celebration, running from Oct. 14 to 24, will mean blocked-off streets for New Yorkers and less police protection for the city. Some 8,000 policemen have been assigned to guard more than 40 heads of state or government and about 100 ministers of cabinet rank expected to attend.

Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro apparently have decided not to attend the commemoration. But authorities still have the problem of guarding such leaders as President Nixon, British Prime Minister Edward Heath and Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers is scheduled to begin talks Friday with visiting foreign ministers, including Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko. The meetings come at a low point in the Big Four quest for a solution to the Middle East crisis.

The chief U.N. representatives of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union met for two hours Tuesday but reported no progress in the Middle East logjam. They will meet again Oct. 28.

The United Nations began its commemorative session with a new member; the Pacific island nation of Fiji, which was granted independence from Britain last week. Fiji was admitted to the organization Tuesday, becoming its 127th member. There were 51 members when the United Nations was organized.

FBI Arrests Black Militant Angela Davis

NEW YORK (AP) — Angela Davis, the black militant philosophy instructor, has been arrested by the FBI at a motel after being sought for nearly two months on murder and kidnapping charges in a California courthouse shootout.

Miss Davis, 26, a former faculty member of the University of California at Los Angeles, is accused of purchasing the guns used in the courtroom breakout that took the lives of the judge and three others in San Raphael, Calif., Aug. 7.

Arrested with Miss Davis at the Howard Johnson Motor Lodge in midtown Manhattan Tuesday evening was David Rudolph Poindexter Jr., 36, also black, who was charged with harboring a fugitive.

They were to be arraigned today.

Miss Davis, whose public avowal of communism created a still unresolved academic freedom controversy at UCLA, was placed on the FBI's 10 Most-Wanted List after being charged in connection with the California shooting.

The FBI said it traced Miss Davis here through a car owned by Poindexter, who was born in Chicago and had reportedly been active in radical political organizations there in the early and mid 1960s.

In Miami Beach, Atty. Gen. John Mitchell said Tuesday night that a chance sighting of Miss Davis in south Florida led to her capture.

John Hushen, a Justice Department spokesman who was attending a political function with Mitchell, said Miss Davis was in the Miami area three weeks ago.

A young black pilot who asked not to be identified told an Associated Press newsmen in Miami Beach that preparations had been made there to fly Miss Davis to Cuba from a deserted Miami airstrip.

The plan apparently fell through when a charter boat captain told the FBI that a black woman accompanied by two men tried to force him at gunpoint to take them from Miami Beach to Bimini in the Bahamas.

17 Held for Cargo Thefts

NEW YORK (AP) — The FBI announced today the arrests of 17 persons charged in connection with cargo thefts from interstate commerce shipments at John F. Kennedy International Airport.

In a statement, the FBI said the charges stem from thefts at Pan American World Airways facilities during 1968 and 1969. The cargoes allegedly included weapons, ocelot, peludo and jaguar skins and wigs with an estimated total value of about $115,000.

Neighborhood Schools Is Primary Issue in Desegregation Hearing

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court's inquiry into school desegregation, which moved into a third day today, has evolved into a debate over one primary issue: neighborhood schools.

The emotional situation became particularly evident Tuesday when Justice Hugo L. Black, whose opposition to racial discrimination has never been seriously challenged, told a black lawyer from the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund: "I don't like this trying to condemn a whole way of living."

The fund lawyer, James M. Nabrit III, had argued that "this neighborhood school concept is really a fiction." That is, he said, the Charlotte-Mecklenburg County, N.C., school board had used zoning and school location techniques mostly to pre-

Representatives of the Missouri Pacific Railroad met with the City Directors last night for a further discussion of rebuilding the underpass on North Hervey. The City Officials have always insisted that there was a commitment on the part of the railroad at the time the underpass was built, in 1941, to rebuild the structure when materials were available, or when public safety required a better underpass.

M. A. Wohlschlaeger, engineer in charge of grade separations for the railroad company, said that the cost of all grade separations over a state highway were borne by the highway department, and that he knew of no instance in recent years of the railroad company bearing the cost. He quoted a law which provides federal funds for the cost of building or rebuilding grade separations at the intersection of railroads and state highways.

Mr. Wohlschlaeger asked for some city representatives to go with him to the State Highway Department for a discussion on obtaining federal funds to rebuild the underpass.

John Tallant, District Engineer for the State Highway Department, and Albert Graves, who was mayor at the time the underpass was built, were present. Other representatives of the railroad were C. C. Hall, assistant engineer, W. T.

Enemy Booby Trap Kills 9 Americans

By J. T. WOLKERSTORFER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — A Viet Cong booby trap killed nine Americans and wounded five south-east of Da Nang, and in the Mekong Delta an American helicopter gunship accidentally killed eight South Vietnamese troops and wounded 23, the U.S. Command announced today.

The booby trap had been made from a dud American artillery shell. Troops of the American Division's 198th Brigade triggered it while on an operation in Quang Ngai province 66 miles southeast of Da Nang. One South Vietnamese soldier also was killed.

It was the heaviest American toll in such an incident in six months, since a similarly rigged 155mm shell killed 14 Americans and wounded 32 on April 15 in the same general area.

The accidental helicopter attack occurred last Sunday 132 miles southwest of Saigon. The U.S. Command said the aircraft fired a dozen 2.75-inch rockets into a force of South Vietnamese the chopper was giving gunfire support to.

The U.S. Command reported only light and scattered action involving American forces. It said one American was killed and one wounded by mines, and two Americans were killed and one wounded in brief skirmishes out from Da Nang.

The South Vietnamese command reported three clashes in which government forces killed a total of 71 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese, at a cost of six government soldiers killed and 18 wounded.

Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky left for Europe and the United States today, reportedly carrying a new South Vietnamese proposal to the Paris peace talks.

Bomb Alert in Effect at U.S. Buildings

WASHINGTON (AP) — An indefinite alert for terrorist attacks has gone into effect at federal installations across the country. We just can't have any more without taking some action," said Robert L. Kunzig, General Services Administrator, who ordered tightened security at all federally maintained civilian installations.

A spokesman for Kunzig said the General Services Administration placed guards on patrol outside all federal buildings, locked all but main entrances and began to refuse entry to anyone carrying suspicious parcels who refused inspection.

The increased vigilance came after a bomb explosion at a federal office building in Rochester, N.Y., Monday. The spokesman said security had been under scrutiny "for some time" because of a series of bomb attacks at various government and non-government sites.

GSA has 3,582 guards at 266 federally-owned buildings and 104 other buildings or offices leased by the government.

Pornography Action by Senate Rapped

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Dr. William Lockhart, chairman of the Commission on Obscenity and Pornography, has criticized Senate action on the findings of the commission.

The Senate, in a resolution approved 60 to 5 Tuesday, rejected the findings of the pornography commission. The resolution has no force of law, but does place the Senate on record as opposing the report.

"I regret that so many senators thought it appropriate to express disagreement with the recommendations of the commission before they could have time to give careful study to the 600-page report," Lockhart said.

Napper Named SWC Back of the Week

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Before the season began, Texas Tech head coach Jim Carlen said his quarterback Charles Napper was good with a chance to improve. Carlen wishes to correct that to "outstanding."

Napper converted 14 of 17 third down plays, hit 12 of 14 passes for 116 yards and two touchdowns, and completed 11 passes in a row at one stretch in the Red Raiders' 21-7 victory over Texas A&M last Saturday night.

The performance earned the junior from Dallas The Associated Press' Southwest Conference offensive player of the week award. Danny Braband, band, University of Texas linebacker, was in on 24 tackles in Texas' 41-9 romp over Oklahoma for the defensive player of the week award.

Carlen said, "Napper played the best game since we've been here. On our option he read it accurately (got it to the right back) the higher percentage of time than any quarterback I've ever had."

Napper took Tech on three long touchdown drives in what Carlen describes as his "patient offense."

"It's a percentage offense and I really like it," said Napper. "We go to the Wishbone when we need to. I couldn't stand it (the triple option) last year when I first saw Texas run it. I thought it limited you to the inside game. But now that I've studied it I know it better. We still use our wide receivers. That makes 'em adjust too."

Napper said the biggest thing he had to work on was his patience. "Before I was a passing quarterback," he said, "I really had to work on my patience. It took discipline because now we only pass an average of 14 or 15 times a game where before we threw 25 or 30 passes."

Napper said he had a chance to blow his cool when A&M's tremendous safety, Dave Elmendorf, intercepted a pass to stop a promising Tech drive in the early going.

"I should have kept the ball on the ground," Napper said. "Our game plan was to throw some on first down, but I shouldn't have thrown in that situation. But I kept my head up and tried to keep the other guy's head up. That's experience paying off right there."

Napper said he realized that Elmendorf made a great play on the interception. "He's unbelievable," Napper said. "He was 10 or 15 yards away when I threw the ball and still got there. I think Elmendorf was reading my eyes."

Napper makes no bones about wanting to play professional football. He's 6-foot, 185 pounds. "Like anybody else I have the desire to play," Napper said. "I realize I may not be noticed like some of the quarterbacks who throw 30 or 40 times a game. I believe I can throw the ball as well as most people. They also look for leadership."

And he added, "They have tryouts there too." Others receiving offensive votes includes Tech receiver Johnny Odum, who caught two touchdown passes from Napper, and Arkansas tailback Bill

Duke Player Is Lineman of the Week

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dick Biddle usually plays hurt, so he figures Duke's opponents should feel some of the pain.

Biddle's victims last Saturday were the previously unbeaten West Virginia Mountaineers. Duke won 21-13 and the hurt was felt not only in Morgantown, where the game was played, but in Parkersburg, W. Va., as well.

That's Biddle's home town—he was heavily recruited by West Virginia—and the 6-foot, 215-pound senior linebacker took a lot of ribbing all summer that the Mountaineers would beat Duke by 30 points. At the final gun, Biddle raced out to shake hands with West Virginia Coach Bobby Bowden and then flung his helmet high in the air.

He's lucky Bowden didn't punch him in the nose for all Biddle did to wreck the Mountaineers was make 14 unassisted tackles and help out on 16 others. For that performance, he was named National College Lineman of the Week by The Associated Press.

And Biddle did it all with an aching back—he pulled a muscle in Duke's opening game—and a painful knee, which kept him out of virtually the entire 1969 season.

The 30 tackles against West Virginia also erased the Duke record of 29 set by Biddle against North Carolina State as a sophomore.

"It was as fine an effort as you could ever ask from a football player," said Coach Tom Harp. "His leadership alone and his presence on the field mean a great deal to the team."

Biddle's back injury kept him out of one game and he reinjured it a week ago against Ohio State but kept going for a while although his teammates had to

Investigator in ABC Case Files Claim

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A $500 suit was filed Monday with the state Claims Commission by a private investigator who claims he was hired by the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Department to investigate alleged narcotics sales by ABC agents.

Larry Case, 24, of Little Rock, the investigator, said the ABC hired him to buy hashish from an ABC agent.

Case said in his claim that he had presented a bill for $500 to ABC director Joe Gaspard on Sept. 29 and that the bill had not been paid.

He said he was hired by Gaspard and former ABC chief enforcement officer Earl M. Thomas to investigate rumors that ABC agents were selling narcotics. He said he investigated the rumors and obtained evidence of the alleged sales but was not paid for his services.

It was revealed about two weeks ago that State Police were investigating complaints of alleged illegal activity within the ABC. No state official could comment on the nature of the complaint, but Thomas resigned, saying that "allegations and rumors" would impair his effectiveness as chief enforcement officer.

Newsman reported about a week ago that an "informant" had said that he had been hired by the ABC to purchase hashish from an ABC agent. Several days later, Case identified himself as the person who allegedly bought the hashish from the agent.

Case said he would file a claim with the Claims Commission for the money allegedly owed him by the ABC for the investigation.

Richard N. Drake, director of the Claims Commission, said he would write a letter to the ABC to determine whether the ABC admitted or denied liability. He said a hearing would probably be held on the matter the first week in November.

Car Insurance Rate Hike Is Rejected

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Insurance Commissioner A. Gene Sykes rejected the application Tuesday by the Insurance Rating Board for rate increases on commercial car insurance.

In Sykes' first ruling on a rate increase since becoming commissioner, said that the transactors used by the IRB to project future losses were not adequate and that his department saw no need for a substantial insurance increase at this time.

Transactors are used by insurance companies to set rates to reflect its future earnings, but Sykes said that the mathematical theories used in this case in setting the future trend were not acceptable to the department's actuaries.

Sykes said the department found that asking for some increase might have been valid but that the over-all 12.2 per cent increase asked by the IRB appeared excessive.

Suit Filed by Negroes at Wabbaseka

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Twenty-five Negro faculty and staff members in the Wabbaseka school system filed a lawsuit Tuesday in federal District Court in which they charged that the school district had discriminated against them in terms of pay and other conditions of employment.

Avis V. Thomas, a physical education instructor and basketball coach, and Mrs. Beatrice Sanders, a social science teacher, two of the plaintiffs, were notified last week that they were being dismissed effective Oct. 21. The announcement touched off a walkout by

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset

Negro pupils.

The suit asks for a temporary restraining order to prevent Thomas and Mrs. Sanders from being dismissed.

Thomas and Mrs. Sanders are among five teachers in the district, all of them black, whose salaries are paid by federal funds received under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. Officials said Thomas and Mrs. Sanders were dismissed due to insufficient federal funds.

The suit says Title I funds should be distributed equally so that teachers of both races will be affected by any cutback of federal funds.

The suit also alleges that white teachers in the Wabbaseka District received the $500 pay raises provided by the Arkansas legislature for the 1967-68 and 1968-69 school years, but

Capote Is Expected to Surrender

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Don Keller said today author Truman Capote, who failed to appear to testify as a prosecution witness in the penalty trial of a convicted murderer, is expected to surrender Monday on a warrant charging contempt of court.

Keller said he had received word from Capote's attorney indicating the 46-year-old novelist — now in New York — would appear before Superior Court Judge Byron McMillan in adjacent Orange County.

The judge issued a $5,000 bench warrant June 22 after Capote failed to respond to a prosecution subpoena in the penalty trial of Joseph Morse. The purpose of such penalty trials after conviction is to fix sentences.

Capote had interviewed the 25-year-old defendant in 1967 while Morse was in jail awaiting sentencing for killing his mother and sister.

Soon after, Morse strangled a fellow jail inmate for which he was tried and again convicted of murder. Capote was subpoenaed to testify at Morse's penalty trial in this second case.

Morse is in San Quentin Prison while a death penalty sentence is being appealed.

Hopped Up Rats Reproduce Defected Young

NEW YORK (AP) — Pregnant rats that breathed marijuana smoke in amounts equal to one cigarette a day for 10 days produced offspring with serious genetic defects, a scientist says.

Dr. Vincent DePaul Lynch said his laboratory studies on the rats indicated that the use of marijuana could have "very serious consequences" for human reproduction.

Lynch, testifying Tuesday before a New York State Senate subcommittee hearing on the state's marijuana laws, said his tests tended to corroborate earlier experiments where serious malformations of the fetus occurring after laboratory animals were injected with highly concentrated doses of pure marijuana resin.

Lynch's rats were placed in a glass-enclosed cage for three minutes and breathed marijuana smoke channeled from another container in which marijuana leaves were burning.

"We calculated every aspect of the experiments," Lynch testified. The rats received, he said, "the equivalent amount of marijuana that a human being would normally consume."

Twenty per cent of the offspring were born with serious defects.

 (Conductors, Trainmen, Switchmen)

Whereas, it is the desire of the companies and the union representatives signatory hereto to see that continued employment is afforded all train and yard service employees who may be affected if and when the "Arkansas Full Crew Laws" are repealed, IT IS AGREED:

SECTION 1: All employees with a seniority date in train or yard service in Arkansas on any of the above-named railroads as of the effective date of this agreement will become "Protected Employees", which means that they will not become unemployed in the class or classes of service in which they hold seniority as a result of repeal of the "Arkansas Full Crew Laws".

SECTION 2: To the extent that it is necessary to use employees in excess of that required by applicable crew consist rules in order to afford employment for men who would otherwise become unemployed by reason of repeal of the "Full Crew Laws", the employees will be permitted to exercise their seniority rights on the jobs of their choice. In no event, however, shall it be necessary to use more crewmen than are required by the present "Full Crew Laws".

SECTION 3: Jobs required by the "Arkansas Full Crew Laws" in excess of the number required by crew consist agreements may be eliminated to the extent necessary to meet the requirements of the service so as to avoid hiring new men while working excess jobs. The assignments to be eliminated under this Section shall be the ones held by the most junior employees on excess jobs now required by the present "Full Crew Laws", but protected employees occupying such jobs will still be afforded employment in train or yard service in their respective seniority districts. Mileage of employees in pool service and on extra boards in Arkansas will continue to be regulated as in other States and under present rules and/or practices.

If on any railroad signatory hereto it is felt by the parties that some method other than eliminating the excess jobs held by the most junior employees is more practicable, nothing herein shall prevent the negotiation of another method in lieu thereof. This might be accomplished by the union furnishing a list of preference in sequence of excess jobs to be eliminated, which list may be changed from time to time by the union - this being only one example, among others, discussed while negotiating this agreement.

SECTION 4: If any protected employee is required to work on the extra board as a result of abolishing his excess position he shall be paid no less per month than he was averaging on his regular job which was abolished, so long as he is required to remain on the extra board.

SECTION 5: Unless mutually agreed otherwise, the terms of this agreement shall become effective on the day following the date the "Arkansas Full Crew Laws" are repealed and the results certified by proper governmental authority.

SECTION 6: This agreement constitutes a separate agreement between the parties on each individual carrier and changes agreements, rules and practices on each carrier only to the extent necessary to conform herewith.

Signed at Little Rock, Arkansas, this 1st day of October, 1970.

I'm George T. Graham

"I was born and raised at Gurdon and attended Henderson State College at Arkadelphia. I started to work for the Missouri Pacific Railroad as a clerk, then transferred to train service as a brakeman. I've worked my way up through train service to my current position as General Manager.

I'm Chairman of the Committee for the Repeal of the Full Crew Laws. And I want you to know that if any railroad man in train service has told you that he will lose his employment because of the repeal of these 1907 so-called Full Crew Laws then he has not told you the truth.

Please read this agreement in full. This agreement guarantees that no employee in train service will lose his employment because of the repeal of these laws. You will note that this agreement bears the signatures of the proper representatives of every railroad in Arkansas. This agreement was sent to the United Transportation Union by registered mail after the union representatives had walked out of a negotiating session.

I want you and every citizen of Arkansas to know that the railroads will live up to the commitments made in this agreement even if the unions refuse to sign it.

You will note in this agreement that every man working in train service, whether he's on a regular job or on the extra board is a "PROTECTED EMPLOYEE" under this agreement.

The railroads ask you to vote for Act 1 and we make this commitment in writing that the repeal of these laws will not cause any man now working to lose his employment in train service.

This is the real truth and you are entitled to know it."

George T. Graham
